STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS

The community that worked on this guide has great advice for advocating for yourself in housing:

If you don't have ID, some places won't house you. See Legal Assistance (page 26) to find resources that can help you get that ID. —Hannah

The AIDS Library can help answer your health and resource-related questions. Visit or call Mon, Wed, Fri 1pm-5pm, and Tues, Thurs 1pm-7pm. Email or search our guides online, any time. 1233 Locust St, 2nd Fl | 215-985-4851 | aidslibrary.org library@aidslibrary.org

Find people who already support you, and let them know you need their support, now more than ever. —James

Get a case manager to help you! HIV-positive people in the Philadelphia area can get an HIV case manager through their medical provider or by calling 800-985-AIDS. (2437) For HIV-negative people, you can find case managers to help you in the following types of organizations: mental health, recovery, domestic violence, or emergency housing intakes. —Val

Be persistent, but not too persistent. Be patient, but not too patient. —Ben

Try to call before going. You don't want to travel a long distance just to be turned away. —James

INTRODUCTION

Everybody needs and deserves housing, but not everybody has it. Stable housing has been proven to be a part of good health. Studies show that housing is good for HIV prevention and treatment.

In Philadelphia, many temporary housing resources exist, like shelters or transitional housing. There are fewer resources for permanent housing. Many have a long waiting list.

This guide contains housing intake points in Philadelphia. This is not a comprehensive list of all housing facilities.

Many of these resources come from the research we've done at the AIDS Library to answer questions from our users. Some facilities we learned about because Library users had been there and told us about them. We also asked groups of Library users for advice on the resources we listed. We feature their input in speech bubbles like the one below:

Speech bubbles like this represent quotes from real people like me. —Charles

The Housing Guide is available at www.AIDSLibrary.org as a searchable database with smartphone and GPS capabilities, and as a downloadable PDF file for printing.

Housing is important for health. People at risk for HIV who have stable housing are less likely to get HIV. People living with HIV/AIDS who have stable housing are more likely to stay healthy. —Juliet

EMERGENCY HOUSING INTAKES

Utilities Eligibility: Applicants must be able to have utilities (electricity and gas) in their own name at the time of referral placement, excluding applicants who are minors.

Ineligibility: Homeowners, those already receiving a housing subsidy. Individuals actively using drugs or alcohol (D/A) are ineligible to access HSP unless they are in an active treatment program.

Incomplete Applications: Incomplete applications will be kept on file for 30 days after receipt. If the missing documentation is not received in 30 days, the application will be closed and a new application must be submitted.

Completed Applications: Once your application has been reviewed and approved by AACO HSP, you will be informed in writing and you will be placed on the AACO housing waitlist.

ACT UP Philadelphia (the AIDS Coalition to Unleash Power) is working on a campaign to win more AIDS housing in Philadelphia. If you are interested in getting involved, contact us! 215-386-1981 | actupphilly@gmail.com | or on the web at actupphilly.org—Roy

There is a waiting list for AIDS Housing. This means the sooner you apply, the better. However, the waiting list is not “first come, first serve.” Applicants are prioritized according to the following criteria:

Priority Level 1: for the homeless, those in a domestic violence situation, and those who have lost a leased home due to a fire.

Priority Level 2: for those contributing more than 50% of their income to rent, those living in uninhabitable conditions (per L&I), those on probation or parole, and those with minors under the age of 12.

Priority Level 3: all other low-income applicants with HIV disease who do not meet the above criteria.

Applicants must meet income, medical, residential, and utility eligibility requirements:

Income Eligibility: The household of the applicant must meet HUD income guidelines, available upon request. Applicants must provide Proof of Income for all household members, including children.

Medical Eligibility: The applicant must have CDC-defined AIDS diagnosis, or meet the Social Security Administration requirements for disability due to HIV. The Medical Information form must be fully completed by a medical provider within the last 6 months.

Residential Eligibility: Applicant must reside within Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery, or Philadelphia counties. Proof of Residency (current lease, letter from a homeless shelter, “proof of homeless statement” from a medical case manager, or a Tenant Proof of Residence form) must be submitted.

AIDS HOUSING

In Philadelphia, AIDS Housing is handled through the Housing Services Program (HSP) of the AIDS Activities Coordinating Office (AACO). HSP is federally funded and provides permanent subsidized housing for qualified low-income people living with HIV/AIDS and their families.

To complete the application and access HSP, you will need:

- ☑ An HIV case manager (If you need an HIV case manager, call AACO's Helpline at 800-985-2437)
- ☑ A medical provider you see regularly
- ☑ Photo ID for all adults
- ☑ Birth certificate for all children
- ☑ Proof of income for everyone
- ☑ If you have substance use issues or a mental health condition, you must be in treatment and provide proof.

AACO's HSP does not provide emergency housing. See page 5 for the emergency housing intakes. —Val
